Letter from the Executive Director

Over the course of 30 years, an idea to transform the world through the power of mobility has been brought to life by you.

Mobility Worldwide has an ambitious goal to ensure everyone in the world has mobility, and we are working tirelessly to serve our part in the collective mission. People around the world have had life-changing experiences after receiving a Mobility Cart and tell stories about connecting with their communities, finding purpose within their families, and unlocking a level of joy that never seemed possible.

I believe in the depth of my heart that everyone is capable and powerful. There are so many barriers in our lives that make it difficult to reach our full potential, and disability can have such a significant impact on someone's lived experience. Individuals with disabilities around the world experience such intense levels of stigma that reinforce negative stereotypes and continue a cycle of pushing people down rather than lifting them up.

You can help us change this.

As we set off into our next 30 years, we will continue to set ambitious goals and discover a pathway in which we are breaking down barriers for people with disabilities. We are currently impacting thousands of people per year, and we have the ability to increase that to tens of thousands annually. We pride ourselves on our ability to organize a network of partners to reach some of the most remote places in the world, and we are ready to deepen our impact at the community level and transform lives holistically. We are doing great work that comes with great pride, and the opportunities to make an even greater impact are endless.

Join me as we look forward to helping more people around the world by breaking down barriers and spreading love through the power of community and joy. Together we can make our vision become a reality.

Christopher J. Stanfill, Ph.D.
